read where this information that's coming out, there's nothing to that. They can't verify it. I'd like to know how you verify that crime has gone down because of some guy has got a concealed weapon in his pocket. I don't think you can...I'd like to know how you verify that. How would you verify that? And a classic comment by, a classic quote by Senator Schellpeper says, well, the guns will be in the hands of the good guys. Well, what are the good guys going to do with those guns? What are the good guys going to do with those guns? Senator Janssen, I have a question for you.

SENATOR JANSSEN: Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: I'd like you to respond, what are the good guys going to...in fact, I don't even know if you are for or against the bill, what are the good guys going to do with the guns?

SPEAKER WITHEM: Senator Janssen

SENATOR JANSSEN: Yes.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Are you responding?

SENATOR JANSSEN: Yes, yes, certainly.

SPEAKER WITHEM: Okay.

SENATOR JANSSEN: Would you ask that question again, Senator Robinson?

SENATOR ROBINSON: Sure, you bet I will. Senator Schellpeper said, well, all these states that have these concealed weapons laws...he says the guns are in the hands of the good guys. Now, what are the good guys going to do with them?

SENATOR JANSSEN: Well, I imagine it will probably protect their good reputation.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Uh-huh, uh-huh. How do you verify...how do you verify the good reputation?
